1967, William E. Sittard began his career as music director for Chicopee Comprehensive High School. Throughout these sixteen years, he has devoted an immense amount of time, patience, and energy to help mold his students to grow musically, as well as morally. Each individual who is fortunate enough to come in contact with Mr. Sittard, either through band, chorus, or in any other capacity, knows what it is to have more than a student/teacher relationship. He is a figure of respect and authority; consequently, he always has an open ear and/or a comforting word of advice.

With the guidance of a phenomenal director, the C.C.H.S. band, representing our high school, has achieved such high honors as: Massachusetts Band of the Year; a participator in the Bicentennial Celebration in Allentown, Pennsylvania; an accumulation of trophies in Toronto, Canada; a succession of first place honors in the Quincy Christmas Parade, the Fall Foliage Parade, the Heritage Music Festival, the Salute to Israel Parade in New York City, and the Miss America Pageant Parade in Atlanta City, New Jersey.

In closing, we would like to thank Mr. Sittard for providing our school, not only with a prestigious name, but also with entertainment and spirit which create a unified atmosphere in conjunction with school functions and activities.

On behalf of the entire student body, the yearbook staff takes great pride and pleasure in dedicating Memini '83 to Mr. William E. Sittard.

WILLIAM E. SITTARD

SLAVE DRIVER

Only as high as I can reach

Only as far as I can seek

Only as deep as I can look

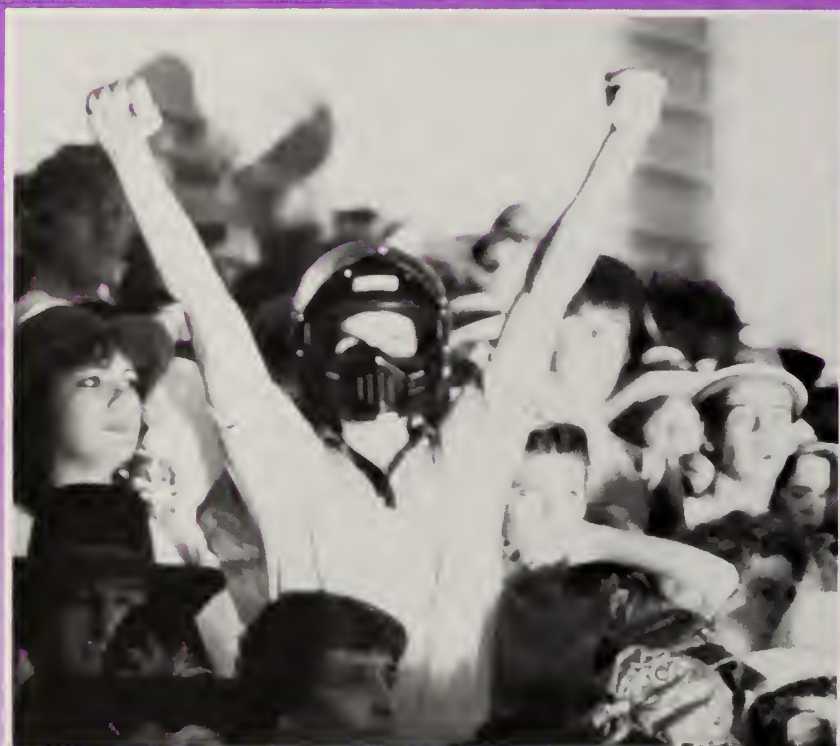

Only as much as I can dream

can I grow,

can I go,

can I see,

can I be.

Far from the crowd I will pick my way,
apart from society,
for I must rest and pause awhile
and find a trail for me.

So push and climb on your noisy way.
I choose a different goal;
to nestle in my quiet place
and grow within my soul.

The future awaits,
a mystery beyond all human reckoning:
its silent challenges ever heard,
its unseen beauties beckoning.

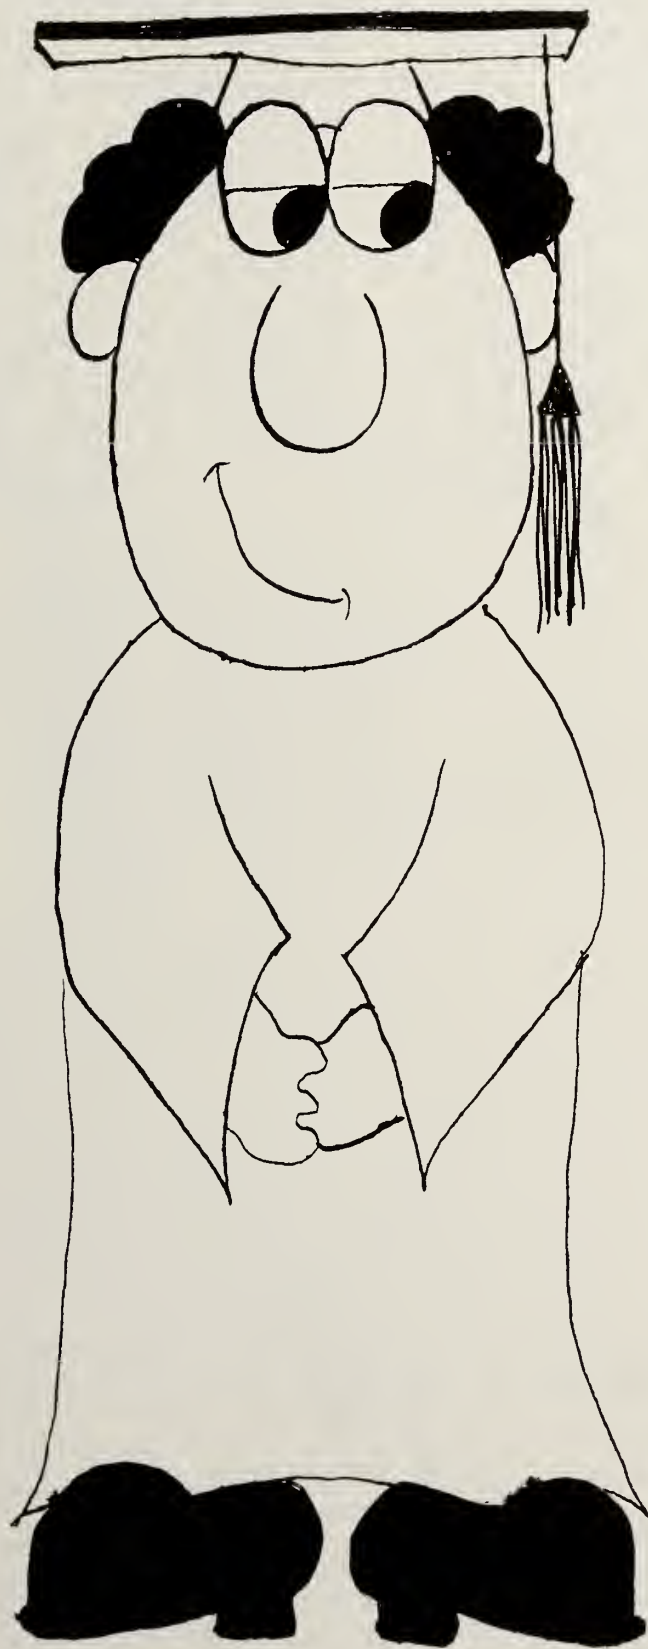

Tomorrow is a dream
that leads me onward . . .
Tomorrow is a path I have yet to choose,
it is a chance I have yet to take,
a friend I have yet to make.
It is all the talent
I have yet to use.

Tomorrow is a dream
that leads me onward,
always just a step ahead of me . . .
It is the joy I have yet to know,
the love I have yet to show.
For it is the person
I have yet to be.

SENIOR CLASS ADVISORS

It has been rewarding to be class advisor to the Class of 1983. Your efforts in the classroom, on the athletic fields, and in extra-curricular activities have brought honor to yourselves, your school, and your community. We know you will dedicate yourselves in the same manner in all of your future endeavors, and we hope and trust you will all be rewarded with success and happiness. We will always take special pride in being associated with the Class of 83.

♦ FACULTY ♦

ADMINISTRATION

To The Class of 1983:

You leave high school with many skills acquired over the past four years. These skills will enable you to earn a living immediately upon graduating or in the future after you have had additional training and/or experience.

All these skills are for naught if you have not acquired a wholesome attitude toward life. This means you will have to decide what goals are important to you and what sacrifices you are willing to make in order to achieve those goals. Nothing in life is achieved without some sacrifices.

When establishing your goals you must bear in mind how these goals will affect your relationship with your spouse, family, friends, neighbors, community, etc. You must think of others. Independence is a virtue; indifference is a sin.

William Coscore

William Coscore, Superintendent of Schools

Herbert Curry
Asst. Superintendant

Carolyn Fitzgerald
Administrative Assistant

I wish to express my congratulations to the graduating class of 1983. Although you were faced with many societal obstructions and disruptions, you, as a group, placed education values as one of your top priorities. You met the challenges, and you succeeded in achieving your first important goal.

As educators, it was our educational interest to teach you how to recognize and to assess value conflicts and how to tolerate diverse values that exist in a pluralistic society.

Your secondary school education should serve as a contributory step to your future endeavors.

You will have to devote more time and more effort to discipline yourselves to seek newer and more difficult educational growth. This includes the academics as well as the vocational revolution which is changing so dramatically.

Your decisions will be more pronounced and more selective if you are to gain the benefits of our new technological society.

You are the future and the results will be yours.

Graduates, you should continue your search for more humanistic goals which will allow people to be more tolerant of each other and to restore peace and respect to all the nations of all the world.

GUIDANCE

I am very honored for having the opportunity to extend my congratulations to the class of 1983. I hope that the education and experiences you received at Chicopee Comprehensive High School will guide you to your success in the future.

May God bless you all.

ENGLISH

All English classes at Comprehensive High School are basically reading and writing. In addition, all classroom teachers emphasize effective oral communication, including listening, and some basic skills in audio-visual methods.

The basic area requirements are primarily writing courses, for the purpose of providing the basic concepts of sentence structure and the paragraph, and of providing application immediately after high school of the communication skills necessary for particular goals, e.g. business, industry, college, etc. In addition, in all subject area requirements, at least one day a week is devoted to developmental skills in reading.

The electives, although somewhat limited, are again primarily reading and writing. Those available electives are especially successful because they permit students to elect areas of their interest, consequently increasing motivation.

The Comprehensive English Department has been very pleased with its writing program. Teachers, in other fields, have confirmed the fact that Comp. students, in general, are writing much more effectively. Furthermore, we are concentrating on providing more reading experiences in the English classroom.

But most of all, it is through the efforts of an experienced English faculty, that we are able each year to measure more and more success in not only our college board scores, but our career placement programs.

FOREIGN LANGUAGE

The primary goal of the foreign language teachers is to foster an appreciation, interest and knowledge for foreign languages. Emphasis is focused on the teaching of a specific language and on the culture from which it is derived. We have tried, these past four years, to contribute to each student's total growth by reducing his monocultural orientation by active, pleasurable participation in a different culture pattern.

With this background we are confident that the "Class of 83" will successfully meet and overcome any and all life's challenges. "Bonne Chance" to all.

SOCIAL STUDIES

Social Studies is one of the unique subject areas of a high school curriculum. Concerned with facts, the department uses them for background in developing ideas and values. When one values something, he or she should work at trying to attain it. The Social Studies Department attempts to assess these values with the students and to spur on that quest, developing student minds to not only seek worthwhile values, but also to live up to them. If we succeed, then we feel we have set students in the right direction to face the enormous problems they will encounter in life.

MATH

The fundamental purpose of education is to help the student become a well adjusted and productive member of society. The Mathematics Department is primarily concerned with providing for each student the opportunity to develop to the full extent of his mathematical abilities. This is accomplished through the broad spectrum of courses offered by the department for all levels of ability from the fundamentals of arithmetic operations up through the theory and structure behind the more advanced principles of mathematics.

The intent of the department is twofold: that students leaving CCHS upon graduation will be well prepared for whatever their chosen endeavor might be and that students will be successful in that endeavor. We hope we have provided the tools with which you might accomplish your goals and wish you well in that effort.

SCIENCE

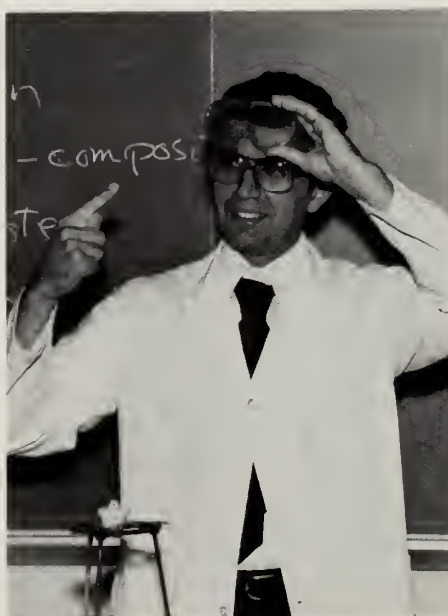

Throughout its existence, the Science Department of CCHS has had one main goal, that of providing its students with a variety of quality class offerings. This has permitted those of you who wanted to learn a more than ample opportunity to do so. The Science Department congratulates the Class of 1983 for its successes during its four years' attendance at CCHS, and it extends its best wishes to all of the graduates for continued success in any and all future individual endeavors.

BUSINESS

In today's ever-changing world of business, with the increased emphasis on computers and computerized office equipment, typing skills are a definite requirement in the business office. To go along with this modern technology, a solid understanding of accounting and recordkeeping is also desirable especially for the college bound student. A wide variety of related courses rounds out the business curriculum at Chicopee Comprehensive High School.

VOCATIONAL

It gives me great pleasure to offer my congratulations to the Class of 1983.

You have gained considerable knowledge at C.C.H.S. in a wide variety of disciplines. But education is a continuing process without which you will be unable to enter the highly competitive world of work.

The era that we live in demands that you prepare yourself to meet the great challenge of high technology with knowledge and skills.

In the coming decades, as companies forge ahead with computerized manufacturing, the factory floor will take on "Star Wars" overtones with batteries of robots-the so-called "steel workers" of the assembly line. High technology means computers, electronics, robotization.

Be prepared to meet the challenge of this wave of the future in either a professional capacity by seeking more knowledge in further education or to expand upon the skills you have acquired in your secondary education.

I wish you all good health and happiness for the rest of your days.

SINCERE "THANKS" FROM MEMINI '83

To Mrs. Mary Rodgers who successfully advised and guided our yearbook in her rookie year as advisor.

To Mr. Don Lendry, our representative from Josten's Yearbook Company, for helping us to meet our deadlines and giving us his time and explanations.

To Mr. Alfred Pinciak for giving his time and keeping the Senior class unified through the tough times encountered during our high school years.

To Senior class advisors, Mr. Roger Bouden and Mr. Neil Martell for their support and understanding.

To the Greniers for their patience when rushing for deadlines and their time expended for us.

To Mr. Raymond Boulais for his advice and the giving of his time and knowledge.

To Lisa Goehring, Marie LaFlamme, and Mary Goehring for their excellent advertising campaign which raised enough money for the extra color in our book.

To Dawn Seiffert and the senior staff which created an imaginative section.

To Diane Mashia for a terrific and creative underclassmen section.

To Steve Pedrosa for the informative and wide coverage of the vocational section.

To Mike Boivin for his well-designed faculty section. Mike also did his own artwork.

To Paul Baljger for creating an excellent activities section.

To Craig Peltier for the designing of the athletic section.

To Lisa Chandler for running a successful subscription drive; especially to Freshmen!

To Jim Desjardins and Dave Lapointe for the help in all aspects of our photography.

To Carrie Aickelin for aiding all of our editors with their sections.

To Wende Raymond for all the adorable artwork on the division pages.

To Doug Major for the beautiful and explicit artwork exhibited on this page and the title page.

To Carolyn Sittard, Beth Allard, Corrine Lavigne, and Sheryl Cairns for their exceptional typing.

The first shafts of crimson light reach out toward the sky. Their delicate fingers caress the pillars of stone and stroke the crystal towers. Together we set a course for the sun, for it symbolizes our very existence. The dawn of our lives is now, and we must strive for our own beginnings. We may endure hardships and despair, and some may fail, but to prevail is essential, in our hopes, our dreams, our fantasies, and our futures.

SENIOR PROM

The Senior Prom was held on May 30, 1983 at the Quality Inn in Chicopee, Mass. from eight o'clock until midnight. The theme of the evening was "Time in a Bottle", and the music was presented by Thursday's Child. This event marked the beginning of Senior Week and was enjoyed by all who attended.

SENIOR BANQUET

The Senior Banquet was held on June 2, 1983 at Chez Josef in Agawam, Mass. After dinner and various administrative speeches, our yearbook, Memini '83, was presented to William E. Sittard by Dawn Duval, Editor-in-Chief. Others honored that evening were Mary Rodgers, yearbook advisor, and the class advisors, Neil Martell and Roger Bowden. Following the awards and speeches were dancing and socializing until midnight for everyone.

GRADUATION

The commencement exercises for the Class of 1983 were held on Comprehensive's football field on June 3, 1983. Presenting the diplomas was the Honorable Mayor Robert F. Kumor. Although this marked the closing of our high school lives, we looked forward to beginning the path of our futures with many fond memories to look back upon and to guide us.
